

This sequence diagram is specific to the scenario where a Griffin tries to change state during the execution of the playTurn method

Note: This diagram only includes class that was created by my team. The classes from the engine as well as built-in classes are omitted. Methods that rely on these classes are either omitted or treated as self-called in Griffin

